

REGISTER.

There are only (15) fifteen days, exclusive of Sundays, now before Registration closes. Let every Democrat register and see that his neighbor does likewise.

A GENTLEMAN from St. Mary's township was in Raleigh yesterday. He said all the white people in that township (except those who have sold out to the Republicans) want to thank BUCK JONES for his great speech at Auburn. "It did us all good," said he, "and if every Democrat was earnest and as manly as BUCK JONES, Wake would always be Democratic." BUCK is waking 'em up everywhere, and is making eloquent and effective speeches. The white man who votes against him, or any of our Legislative ticket, is an enemy to good government and his race.

It would be a good idea for all registrars to get a list of negroes who have gone away from their townships, and all who have come in. Many have gone away. New comers will seek to take their places, unless registrars are very careful to prevent it.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Hon. W. H. Kitchen.

Hon. W. H. Kitchen will address the people on the current issues of the day at Henderson, Wednesday, Oct. 8.

Hon. F. M. Simmons.

Hon. F. M. Simmons will speak to the people at Tarboro, Monday, Oct. 10.

Weather Report.

Raleigh yesterday: Maximum temperature 74; minimum temperature 66; rain, 0.00 inches.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity to-day: Fair, followed by threatening weather with light showers, wind shifting to northwest; cooler.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Forecast for Virginia, rain; variable winds, becoming westerly; slightly cooler Wednesday morning.

For North Carolina, showers; south-westerly winds; stationary temperature except in interior.

THE CITY CHURCHES.

Some Notes of What They are Doing and the Progress they are Making.

At the Baptist Tabernacle last Sunday, Rev. Dr. Chas. E. Taylor preached for Dr. Hall, the pastor, who was too sick to officiate. Three new members received the right hand of fellowship. Prof. T. Wood, an eminent instructor in vocal music, conducted choral service in the Tabernacle on Sunday afternoon, and will conduct song services in the Sunday school room every night this week. Everybody has a cordial invitation to attend these music lectures and practices. They instruct what to sing and how to sing, and will prove interesting and beneficial to everybody who shall take advantage of them. The lectures and practices are free.

At Edenton Street Methodist Sunday school four new scholars were added to the roll. The school decided to purchase a handsome piano for the school and work to secure it has commenced.

At the First Baptist church four new scholars were added to the Sunday school, and the monthly collection for the support of some orphans at Thomasville was taken.

The service at the Church of the Good Shepherd was very beautiful and interesting, and was attended by as large a congregation as the church could hold. A choir of sixty voices from St. Mary's school rendered the entire morning service chorally. It was impressive and grand. The choral service was under the direction of Dr. Kustner.

Don't postpone it, but go and register to-day.

PROF. BRANSON.

He is Making a Great Name in Athens.

Raleigh boys succeed the world over. Prof. E. C. Branson, of this city, is superintendent of the Athens public schools. A recent issue of the Athens Daily Banner contains the following:

"Athens has many institutions of which she is justly proud, but none are doing more for the prosperity and up-building of our city than her public schools. Persons who have travelled all over the United States say we have the best system of free schools in America. There is just as much difference in the mode of teaching in these schools and even the best in the country, as between the speed of an ox cart and a steam locomotive. All the advanced methods are adopted, and the discipline of the pupils is as near perfect as it can be made. The best educational talent of the country has been secured as teachers, while in Professor Branson we have a principal whose ability is recognized all over the South."

The Supreme Court.

Cases from the Second District were disposed of on yesterday as follows:

State v. Pritchard, from Bertie. Argued by Attorney General for the State, Winston & Williams for defendant.

Grant v. Reese, dismissed.

Mitchell v. Hoggard, continued.

Myers v. Rice, argued by D. C. Winston for plaintiff, and Pruden & Vann, by brief, for the defendant.

Jones v. Hoggard, argued by Winston & Williams for the defendant.

Appeals from the Third District will be heard on next Monday as follows:

State v. Allen; State v. Manning; Hancock v. Wooten; Bobbitt v. Jones; High v. Bailey; Joyner v. Hines; Ferrell v. Thompson; Land v. Railroad; Whitehead v. Perkins; Greene v. Murphy; Edwards v. Bowen; Holden v. Purfoy; Peebles v. Bradwell; Joyner v. Stancell.

Fair Week Dances.

The Monogram Club will give two elegant gowns during fair week—one on Tuesday and one on Thursday night.

The Marshall's ball, which will be an elegant affair, will be given on Friday night.

COMING AND GOING.

Some of the Folks You Know and Their Doings.

E. W. Pou, Jr., Esq., of Smithfield, is here.

Lt.-Gov. Thomas M. Holt is in town.

Hon. B. H. Bunn, arrived in the city last night. He spoke yesterday at New Hill. He speaks at Smith's School House in Middle Creek township to-day.

Capt. Bunn is conducting an aggressive and vigorous campaign, and his work is having telling effect.

RALEIGH'S BIG PARADE.

The Trades Procession for the Fair—Several Parties not yet Heard From.

Just one week to the fair, and Raleigh's Trades Procession for that occasion has not grown any in three days.

Now Raleigh surely wants to do itself honor on this occasion and also do honor to its visitors; and to this end there must be a little hustling this week.

Let everybody who can and will send in their names at once—without a delay of another day—and get the procession ready, and there will be competent men to arrange for the parade and take proper care of it. But there ought to be a full meeting of the trades that will have floats, for the purpose of deciding on what days and how many days they want to parade; and gentlemen, this is a matter about which there can be no further delay.

Several parties who are confidently expected to join in the parade have not yet sent in their names. There are several of them, and if they will, they can add largely to the attractiveness of the occasion. Now, will they stay out? Surely not.

The following is the list so far:

W. C. & A. B. Stronach.

A. Williams & Co.

Edwards & Broughton.

State Chronicle.

W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co.

S. & D. Berwanger.

A. G. Rhodes & Co. (two floats)

The Tobacco Interest of Raleigh. (several floats)

N. C. Car Works.

E. F. Wyatt & Son.

W. P. Pickett & Co., Tobacconists of High Point.

Jones & Powell.

North Carolina Wagon Factory.

A. E. Jordan (Royal Gourmet two or three floats).

There are many other manufacturing establishments and business houses who are being anxiously waited for. Let them come right in.

Meeting To-Night.

There will be a trades procession meeting to-night in the Grimes building, and everybody interested is earnestly requested to attend.

SPEAKING AT OXFORD.

Col. Polk and Mr. Beddingfield Address a Large Assembly of People.

There was a very large crowd of people at Oxford yesterday to hear Col. L. L. Polk and Mr. E. C. Beddingfield speak. These gentlemen were met at the depot by a special committee and escorted to the opera house where the speaking occurred.

Col. Polk was introduced to one of the best and most representative bodies of men that ever assembled in Granville county, by Mr. W. H. P. Jenkins.

The Colonel discussed the constitutionality of the sub-treasury bill at length, claiming that the measure was constitutional, and defying any man to prove that it was not. He spoke for about an hour and a half and was listened to with marked attention.

Mr. Beddingfield followed Col. Polk and spoke for about an hour. He advocated a railroad commission and said that it must come.

Grand Organ Recital.

The grand organ recital which has been looked forward to with so much interest for the past few days will be given at the Church of the Good Shepherd to-night. It is only necessary to recall the programme published in Sunday's CHRONICLE to understand what a delightful entertainment it will be.

Booming Along.

The CHRONICLE is still booming along. New daily subscribers are coming in every day, and on Saturday twenty one new daily subscribers were put on the lists. It is the paper the people want and are subscribing for.

RALEIGH IN BRIEF.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL.

Short Items of News Gathered on the Fly by the Chronicle's Reporters.

The county board of education was in session yesterday.

The Hillsboro street extension of the street car line is running a forty minute schedule.

It was suggested yesterday that a sumac factory ought to be one of Raleigh's industries.

The county candidates spoke at Wakefield yesterday. They will speak at Rolesville to-day.

The street sprinkler had pitched battle with the dust yesterday for the first time in several days.

A force of hands was yesterday engaged in repairing the street railway track on Fayetteville street.

The Julian comedy company have cancelled their engagement at Metropolitan hall for fair week.

The Capital club will not go into their new quarters (Henry building) as early as they expected to. It will be some time after the fair before they move.

Keep in mind the grand organ recital at the church of the Good Shepherd to-night, and go there if you wish to spend an evening of delight.

The cotton factory is getting orders at such a tremendous rate that it cannot fill them by running on regular time. A contract has been closed for lighting the factory by electricity.

The board of county commissioners were in session yesterday and transacted routine business. The board will be in session again to-day and will appoint poll holders for the coming election.

The Baptist Female University has been a quiet matter of late, so far as talks goes, but there has been an undercurrent of vigorous activity about it, and the University will be opened next fall if the present plans carry well.

Just one more week to the Fair. Do you get that? The ladies in charge of the art department renew their request that all exhibitors of fancy articles send them in some time this week, that they may be properly displayed.

The auction bell has been ruled out, but the auction men kept their word yesterday and made the streets thunderous with drums. Raleigh is the only city in the world where auction bells are prohibited on the streets. It is also the only city in the world that lets a lightning corporation slam it about and do as it pleases.

THE FAIR.

The Programme Being Formulated.

Arrangements are being made to have every thing go without friction during fair week. Of course a full and explicit programme cannot be announced just yet, but the outline has already been determined upon.

The first procession will be on Tuesday. The procession will form at the west gate of Capitol square on Tuesday morning. From that point the line will go to Fayetteville street at the south gate of the square and proceed down Fayetteville street to the Centennial graded school. The procession will then come back up Fayetteville street to Hargett street, and proceed west on Hargett street to Hargett street station, from which place trains will go to the fair grounds, carrying the officers of the fair, speakers of the day, &c., &c.

The chief marshal requests that all carriages, which will be in this procession will be at the west gate of the Capitol by ten o'clock on Tuesday morning.

Raleigh's New Bakery.

The CHRONICLE announced some days ago that the enterprising firm of W. C. and A. B. Stronach would establish a new bakery. This has been done, and it is one of the best and most complete establishments of the kind in the country.

It will amply repay one to make a visit of inspection there. The bakery occupies a two story brick building near the corner of Blount and Hargett streets. Competent bakers and assistants are now at work there making every thing in the way of lunch biscuits, cakes, &c. A specialty of the establishment will be fresh bread, and all orders will be promptly filled and delivered. The Messrs. Stronach have secured the services of two of the best bread bakers in this whole State, and nothing but the best of every thing will go from the bakery.

The bread wagons will begin delivery to-morrow.

The Soldiers' Home Opened.

The Soldiers' Home was opened yesterday. A few old soldiers are already being cared for, and there are several applications for admittance.

In response to the statement that bedding and house furnishing goods would be needed at once, several contributions have been sent to Mr. W. C. Stronach, Secretary, among which are the following:

One side board.

Twelve plates.

Four dishes.

One tray.

One coffee pot.

One pitcher.

Three camp chairs.

Three glassess.

One pair blankets.

RALEIGH TAXES.

Some People Think They Are Too High—Look How It Is in Other Places.

The following table giving a comparative statement of the population, debt, assessed valuation, etc., of several Southern towns and cities, will serve to show the excellent financial condition of the city of Raleigh:

	Pop.	Debt.	Assessed Value of Property.	Debt per cent.	Capita.
Wilmington, N. C.	22,000	$17,000	$4,300,000	77	$195
Durham, N. C.	20,000	$15,000	$3,500,000	75	$175
Norfolk, Va.	20,000	$14,000	$3,000,000	70	$150
Baltimore, Md.	20,000	$13,000	$2,500,000	65	$125
Boston, Mass.	20,000	$12,000	$2,000,000	60	$100
Wilmington, Del.	20,000	$11,000	$1,500,000	55	$75
Philadelphia, Pa.	20,000	$10,000	$1,000,000	50	$50
Savannah, Ga.	20,000	$9,000	$800,000	45	$40
New Orleans, La.	20,000	$8,000	$600,000	40	$30
Mobile, Ala.	20,000	$7,000	$400,000	35	$20
Memphis, Tenn.	20,000	$6,000	$300,000	30	$15
Augusta, Ga.	20,000	$5,000	$200,000	25	$10
Louisville, Ky.	20,000	$4,000	$100,000	20	$5
St. Louis, Mo.	20,000	$3,000	$50,000	15	$2.50
Raleigh, N. C.	12,000	$2,000	$1,435,418	16.7	$119.61

Raleigh has a smaller debt than any progressive city of its size in the whole country; and the CHRONICLE would like to whisper a hint to the effect that the tax valuation of Raleigh is nothing like as large as it ought to be. Some property is assessed high enough; but the greater part is not.

The State Board of Pharmacy.

A meeting of the N. C. Board of Pharmacy will be held in the city of Raleigh on Tuesday and Wednesday of fair week, October 14th and 15th, for examination of such candidates for license to practice pharmacy as may appear. For further particulars, apply to the secretary of the board, William Simpson, Raleigh.

Deaths.

Miss Mary A. Heidelberg died in this city yesterday morning at 7.10 o'clock, at the residence of her brother-in-law, Capt. T. G. Lee, 109 south Wilmington street. She was aged 66 years. The funeral services were conducted from the residence at 4.30 in the afternoon.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & CO.

Another Big Lot of Carpets.

While in New York last week I bought another big line of carpets. We already had quite a complete stock, but I happened to see some beautiful ones that struck me, and the price was so extremely low that I could not resist the opportunity of buying at such figures. We have in the lot some all wool goods which we sell at 50c per yard. It's the same goods that costs you 75c per yard in any store in the city. We guarantee this. I also bought quite a lot of fine dress goods, silks, Henriettes, cashmires, &c. Also a line of those popular Nellie Bly caps. They are all the rage this season. We have them in all colors, qualities, &c. Just one word about clothing: I bought some of the finest overcoats, and for less money this time than I ever saw before. I tell you plainly, we have the handsomest line of dress overcoats to be found in Raleigh today, and the prices will astonish you.

D. T. SWINDELL.

In order to test the comparative merits of the various newspaper advertising mediums, and at the same time benefit the readers thereof, we shall consider this advertisement for one dollar in payment toward purchase of $20 or more worth of goods, if cut out and presented at time of purchase, either in person or by mail.

A Safe Investment.

It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as Consumption, Inflammation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, etc., etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free at John Y. MacRae's drugstore.

THE WORLD'S COMMERCE.

New York, October 7.—Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Company, in their cotton circular to-night say: "Regardless of a lessened demand from Manchester, quotations have not only been sustained, but slightly advanced. The sentiment which has depressed cotton to its present comparative low basis appears to have run its course, and should we continue to receive bad crop accounts, their effect will be more apparent than of late. Receipts at the ports to-day are very heavy, reaching nearly 28,000 bales, but to the surprise of the market, without causing a decline in the Southern markets. The decline in the stock market has had little or no effect, because, as before stated, we are now governed by weather conditions. The short interest is still confident that clearing weather will bring about a rush of orders to sell, but, unfortunately, the government still predicts rainy weather throughout the Mississippi valley."

Receipts at the ports estimated at 63,000 bales, against 60,116 bales last week, and 54,378 bales last year.

The spot market is quiet and steady at former prices; middling uplands 10-3-8; sales 455 bales.

Transactions in futures to-day were 48,000 bales.

Futures closed firm as follows:

October 10 17-18

November 10 19-20

December 10 23-24

January 10 29-30

February 10 36-37

March 10 43-44

April 10 49-50

May 10 56-57
